THE HALL OF

Hiwassee College, located two miles north-east of Madisonville, Tennessee, was founded by a group of local Methodist preachers in March of 1849. The college was loosely connected with the M.E. Church south until 1867 when it became a part of the Holston Conference.

The college is in the center of a 400 acre farm owned by the college. It is near the Great Smokies and is in the heart of the T.V.A. chain of lakes. Both the faculty and the student body enjoy the good hunting and fishing facilities of this fine location. During the past few years many improvements have taken place at Hiwassee, and the college is beginning to feel the vigor and confidence that comes with young maturity—for the college is reaching adulthood. A few of the many buildings that have been added to the physical plant within the last ten years are: a new girls' dormitory, craft building, six faculty homes, and other buildings connected with the college and the farm. A new dining hall is also in the process of being constructed which will add to the comfort and welfare of the students.

Spiritual growth at Hiwassee has run parallel with the development of the physical plant. In the years to come, Hiwassee College, we feel confident, will take its place among the leading institutions for the development of moral and intellectual capacities of its students.

Follow that shot.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Yea! Hiwassee.

The GRADS

On September 1, 1949, 140 green freshmen entered the doors of Hiwassee College. They chose the following students as their leaders: President—Jimmy McNabb, Vice-President—Ed Ison, Secretary—Marie Hayes, and Treasurer—Betty Collier. These were very successful officers and led their class through a most prosperous year.

After a summer vacation, many of these students returned to Hiwassee as seniors, although many had dropped by the wayside. This class chose as their officers the following leaders: President—B. D. Benton, Vice-President—Bill Branim, Secretary—Alma Glynn Ailey, and Treasurer—Ralph Posey.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

By Medina Cowart and Margaret Hicks

From ashes to ashes
From dust to dust
Seniors give to Seniors
Things that they'll "cuss".

Margaret Hicks leaves the dust in her mailbox to Alma Glynn Ailey.

Sam Barnes cheerfully wills his hair to Cleveland Matchett.

George Blankenbeckler bequeaths to Bobby Gal-loway his history grade.

Mary Ann Burchfield leaves nothing, but says she'll take Quillen with her—wants to protect him from Marion Bayless.

James Miller wills his navy career to Claude Jones.

Ray Keylon wills his week-ends at home to Faith Kung.

Mary Neil Bussell donates her fantastic giggle to Eugene Cavin.

Laura Caamano gives her "clean" room to Doris Paul.

Paul Gray sacrifices his position as "water boy" to Billy Joe Harrell.

Bernice Newman leaves her basketball ability to Louise Norris.

Sue Cole bequeaths her diamond to Mary Lou Smith, but she will keep Kenneth.

Charles Phillipi leaves his wheelbarrow and shovel to Ursell Atkins.

Warren Dobbs leaves his fishing luck to B. D. Benton.

Medina Cowart hands down her work on The Fawn to Marie Hayes.

Rex Denton leaves his "girl appeal" to Willard Gilly.

Clyde Norman leaves to Leonard Rasnick his Phi Theta Kappa grades.

Samuel Pauley leaves to Mr. Whited his seat in the library.

Ralph Posey leaves to Ben Sloan his "little feet." L. B. Trentham gladly gives to Weldon Mercer his teaching ability.

John Stewart wills his ability to milk cows to Jean Youell.

Emory Jacobs wills his chewing gum to Peggy Jesse.

Jack Lewis leaves to Charles Tidwell his part in the quartet.

Douglas McClaugherty wills Betty Castleberry to Brown Overbay.

Ruth Sloan forces her talent for cooking on Marie Reedy.

Stanford Tate wills to Margaret White his flat tires.

Alvin Farley leaves his honor as football captain to Gordon Rogers.

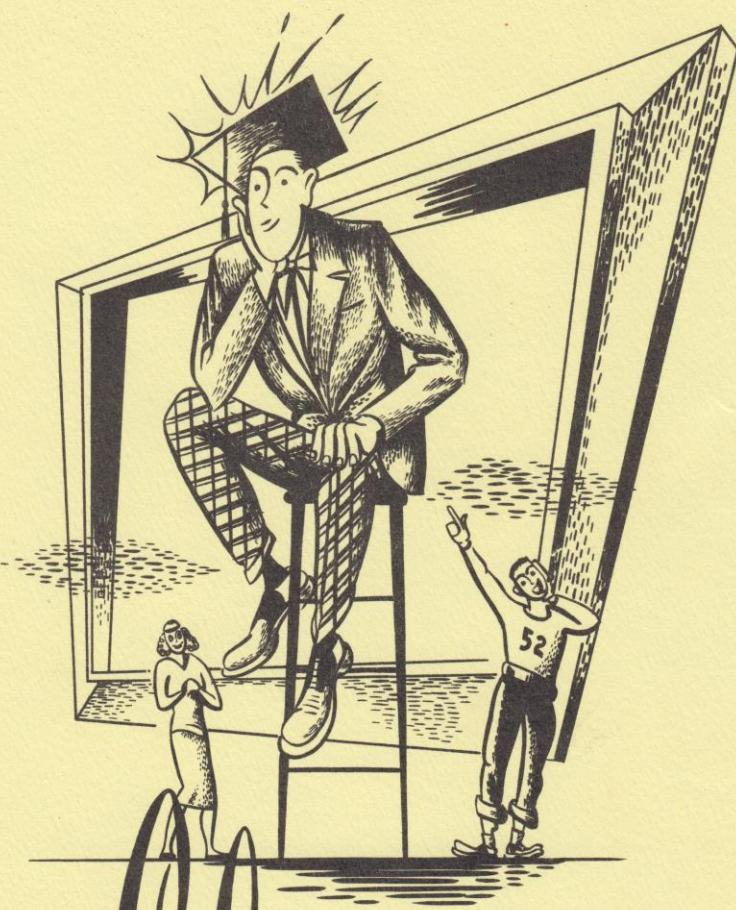

Jack Shelton gets his basketball skills from Don Williams.

Chester Watson wills his day dreams to Porter Dalton; says that he doesn't need them in the Navy.

Austin Ingram bequeaths his quiet nature to Deward Williams.

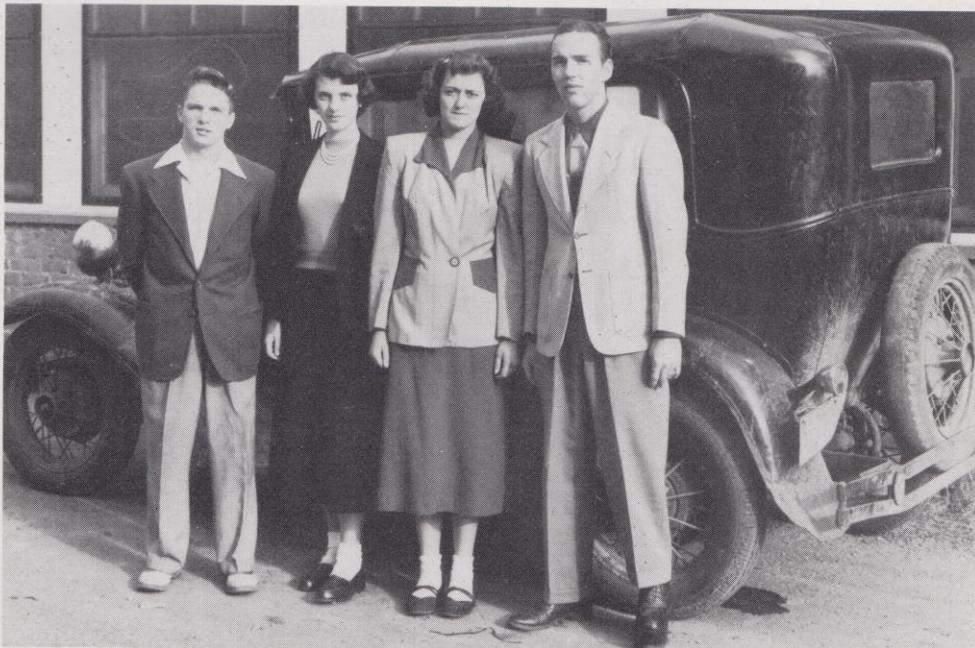

Jena Atkins wills her ability to tell children's stories to Carol Holdway.

Emma Tate wills her Fawn memories of Hiwassee College to Bill Branim.

On the bright day of August 29, 1951, one hundred and sixty boys and girls started their college training at Hiwassee. Since then many have been called by "Uncle Sam"; and a few, not liking their studies, dropped out to go to work. With many pleasant memories of life at Hiwassee stored away in their hearts, they will return home this summer to come back and finish next year. It has certainly been a wonderful year.

HISTORY

The Agriculture Club of Hiwassee College was organized in September of 1949. The Club is sponsored by The Terminal Agriculture Department and is made up of students who have an interest in agriculture. The Club is officially known as the "Aggies." The Club's purposes are as follows:

To promote leadership and acquaint members with parliamentary procedures; to recognize, practice, and instigate higher ideals in farming methods, especially in home communities; to sponsor and promote social activities on campus and in home communities.

The Club sponsors two main social events on the campus each year. These are the Fall Festival and the Spring Festival.

THE GAME OF THE YEAR

Hiwassee 32—Maryville 20

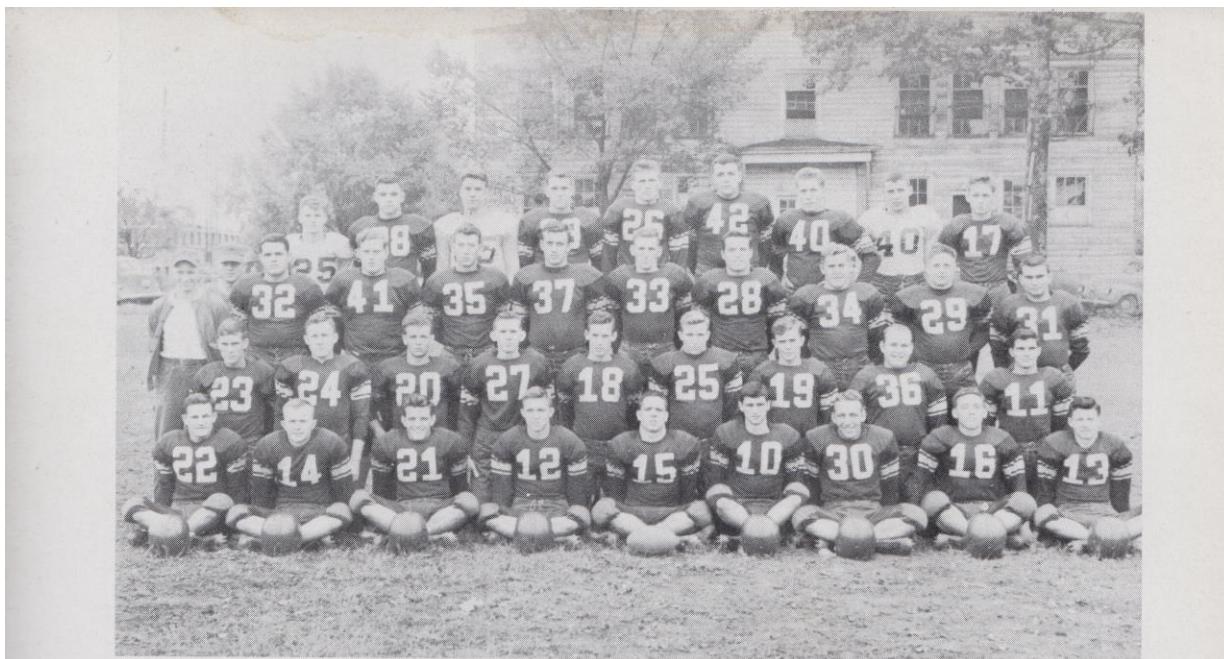

Maryville, September 23, 1951. Hiwassee finally beat its bitter rival, the Maryville Scotties, at the new Honaker Field for the first time since 1931, by a score of 32 to 20. Every man who played was a star. Bill Branim blocked a punt, and Ralph Dye scored from the block to even the score in the second period. Charlie Scroggins passed from the 20 yard line on 4th down at Shelton. He also ran across for one extra point.

Then Carl Mainous and Chig Mainous both tallied for the Big Red and Gold once each. Carl suffered a broken collar bone in the latter part of the game, and Dye got an arm bone chipped, dropping him from the lineup for the season.

Bunch and Campbell can't be left out without leaving out an excellent touchdown by Bunch, and the beautiful placement by Campbell for that extra point.

Those are the ball handling stars, but take these guys who opened the holes, stopped by "Scotty" drives, gave them down field blocking, got the man behind the line of scrimmage, let the lineman: Ray Keylon, Bill Branim, "Alley" Black, Leonard Rasnick, Clifford Irwin, Dick Ottinger, Earl Stanley, and Douglas McClaugherty.
